Two Hundred Dozen Pure Ingrain Silk Hose

The term "ingrain" refers to the dyeing. The intensest and most lasting color is secured by dyeing the silk stock before it is made into stockings. The other way is to take the finished product and dip it into the vat. This method dyes the silk superficially only-and also increases its weight. By the other method the color becomes ingrained-inwrought-and is fast.

Every pair of hose in this lot is ingrain silk-all the most popular shades in sheer gauze to medium weight. Among the blacks are: All-silk, cotton tops, cotton soles, plain hemmed tops and double-welted tops-worth $1.50 to $2.50;
